is ageless. She is the same child to us that she was to our parents, our grandparents, yes, even to our great-grandparents.

But we are different from the boys and girls she knew. Because we think that we have a Wonderland that will be as surprising to her as the one she visited. We are taking her and some of her companions through EHS Land. We will show her the people who administer our school, the people who teach us, the boys and girls who are our classmates. We will show her too the classrooms where we work and study, the organizations we belong to, the good times we have, and the sports we participate in and enjoy watching.

We are confident that she will find much to amaze her, much to marvel at in this Wonderland we love. Perhaps, by seeing it through her eyes our eyes too, will be more able to see some of the wonders we sometimes take for granted.

It is to the Board of Education that the students of Elgin High School owe their many advantages; for these men, elected by the citizens of Elgin, administer the money which provides those advantages. They hire the members of the faculty, they provide for the equipment and maintenance of our school. We are grateful to them for this wise and careful planning for the education of Elgin's children from kindergarten through the Community College.

On a bright sunny day in September, 1949 some 200 bewildered freshmen we entered Elgin High School to become the members of the Class of '52. Our class quickly revealed its leadership under the guidance of our class sponsor, Miss Martha Jones. We were one of the first classes to become organized during our freshman year, electing as our officers Pat Weeks, president, Wallace Gifford, vice-president, Nancy Miller, secretary, and Henry Pearson treasurer. Amidst a typical autumn theme of corn shocks and pumpkins, we held our first mixer, "Pumpkin Prance". Later in the year we invited our future classmates from Abbott to attend our first class party, "May Daze."

During our sophomore year the class enrollment reached its high of 372 members. We chose Donne Plotz, president, Don Valentine vice-president, Rosemary Mortellaro, secretary, and Sue Linder treasurer. We called our class party the "Fifty two Fantasy". Our class sweaters of hunter green and white our rings, a white carnation for our flower, and our motto, "Today's effort builds tomorrow's success", were all selected.

We became juniors at the mid-century. Fred Stetten was elected president, Allen Skjoldager vice-president, Sue Linder, secretary, and Elizabeth Shock, treasurer. "Junior Inn Revue" was chosen for our mid-semester party. Our junior play, "Green Stockings" was a tremendous hit. The Junior Senior Prom "Moonlight Magic", was the major co-operative activity with the seniors.

At last we became the upperclassmen seniors. Dave Nelson was elected president, Donne Plotz, vice-president, Sue Linder, secretary, and Pat Weeks treasurer. Mr. John Conzemian was appointed the assistant sponsor for the senior year. Our Homecoming will long be remembered as one of the best. At "Touchdown Tempo", the homecoming dance, Fred Stetten and Sue Linder were crowned King and Queen. Years Ago will be recorded in school history as one of the best senior plays "Candy Cane Capers" was selected as the name for our Christmas class party. The ingenuity of our class members was cleverly shown in the costumes worn to the "Maskapade", a dance sponsored by us for the entire student body. Class Day Baccalaureate the Prom, and all other Commencement activities will never be forgotten. Awards Day and Honors Day reviewed our achievements. We tried to be constructive leaders so that our record of achievements, particularly in the field of scholarships, music, dramatics, speech and athletics will make the class of 1952 one to be long remembered.

Upper center—Research and Publicity

The student body elects the officers; each home room elects a representative. These students make up the Student Council. It is governed by an Executive Council composed of the elected officers, the runners-up, the class presidents, and the co-chairmen of the Commissions.

This year's Student Council program began with the impressive induction ceremony at which Dr. Carl F. Robinson of Northwestern University was the speaker. The Thanksgiving dance, Stunt Night, the Polio Fund Drive, and the Courtesy Drive were some of the activities undertaken.

As one of the leading student governments in our state, our Council is often asked how it can possibly accomplish so much. The answer lies in our inner organizations, the Commissions. The Building and Grounds Commission takes care of the clean-up campaigns, the traffic problem, and similar ones. The Social Commission sponsors Stunt Night, the dances, and other social events. The Service Commission plans the drive for polio funds, the courtesy campaign, sends cards to the sick, and supplies ushers for various occasions. The Research and Publicity Commission sees that posters and decorations are provided when necessary and keeps the Council bulletin board interesting and timely. This year Ria Hoffman of Germany has been one of us through the combined efforts of all the Commissions.

Under the guiding hand of Mr. Wilson and the leadership of the Executive Council, the Student Council goals are reached: social activities flourish; improvement projects constantly better our school; smaller organizations receive support; and, perhaps most important, the government of our school is participated in by the students. Can there be a better method of practicing democracy than by having a student government which is truly the voice of the students?

The School Newspaper "Mirrors" the News

Journalism and the Enid High School newspaper are run on a semester basis. This usually means a change of staff personnel each semester. The business staff does not change, as it is an advantage to the advertisers for it to remain the same.

During the first semester Peggy Fritz served as editor. Sally McBride became second semester editor in chief. Nancy Nielsen was business manager for the year. The first semester advertisers were Glenda Miller and Duane Schudt. Mary Lou Haeger and Joan Wilkinson succeeded to the second semester advertising post. Carol Sayland served on the first semester staff.

The Mirror had to retrench this year putting out 14 issues instead of its usual 16. Miss Enid Burns is sponsor of The Mirror.

The E.H.S. Yearbook, The Maroon

Before school closes in the spring the Maroon staff for the following year is chosen tentatively and ideas for the next book are discussed. Work begins early in the fall with the first major problem—the selection of a theme. From then on the staff is constantly busy. The advertising staff solicits patrons; the editorial staff plans the book's contents; the art staff works on drawings to carry out the theme. Pictures and data are collected; photographers are interviewed and schedules for pictures are arranged. The sales campaign is planned and launched.

By the first part of April the yearbook, with its pictures and carefully checked copy and data, is rushed to the publishers. Only then can the staff relax a bit, in preparation for the big task of distribution in late May.

Upper Co-editors, Janice Newby and Karen Hapman consult with the sports editor, Dick Brant.

Upper center—The star salesmen, Barbara Host and Jim Pitcher, turn in a day's patron sales to business manager, Harold Horne.

Lower center—Mary Kaempfer, Ruth Wilson, and Ann Foelschow spent hours writing copy and captions and identifying people in the pictures.

Lower—Staff photographers Alan Granskoq and Dick Larson confer with staff artists, Roberta Hamby and Dave Chamberlain.

E.H.S. Chapter of National Forensic League

The Forensic program includes Debate, Interpretation, Creative Speaking, Community Speakers' Bureau. This year's is a very young squad, for there are only seven upper classmen (three seniors and four juniors) and ten sophomores. Under the guidance of Mr. Homer Shelby, Director of Forensics, the squad has been very successful in most of the tournaments and has given entertaining and informative programs for numerous civic, service, and religious groups of the community.

Concert Band

"We want music!" comes the cry, and annually the EHS Concert Band under the splendid direction of Mr. Douglas Steensland answers the demand and wins the widespread approval of the entire community.

In uniforms of blue and gold the EHS Band paraded this year, rain or shine, on Armistice Day, Memorial Day, Labor Day, at football games, and at pep rallies. Hours of fourth period practice were required to prepare for the annual Winter Concert and for the district and state contests.

The Elgin High School

The Elgin High School Concert Orchestra, directed by Miss Marion Laffey, contributes much to EHS and Elgin. Last October the orchestra took part in Operatic Nights and in December presented the Christmas concert and the Christmas portion of The Messiah, with the A Cappella. In the spring, contests called EHS music students. In May all string players took part in the Annual Fox Valley Festival Orchestra with guest conductor Richard Church from Madison University. This year the contest for soloists was held at Dundee, and the state contest for solo winners and ensembles at Champaign.

Small ensembles from the orchestra played between 40 and 50 times during the year at weddings, church organizations, and local civic groups. Ten members of this orchestra also played in the Elgin Civic Symphony under the direction of Mr. Douglas Steensland.

The A Cappella Choir

The A Cappella Choir, directed by Mr. E. A. Hill, is one of the outstanding music organizations at EHS. It is a choir of 94 voices and is made up of sophomore, junior, and senior boys, and junior and senior girls who have some musical background; they are selected by try outs. Operatic Nights, the Christmas Concert, The Messiah, the Easter Sunrise Service, and an assembly are traditional A Cappella events. The choir sings in the Spring Music Festival, the Fox Valley Music Festival and frequently is called upon to present programs for civic groups and the churches of Elgin. For these latter programs, some of the many smaller units of the choir usually sing. Fred Steffen is A Cappella president, Meredith Parsons is vice president, and Bruce Pilling is secretary.

There are 94 sophomore girls in the Aeolian Choir, which meets four days a week during the noon hour. Under the direction of Miss Elma Engelbrecht the choir provides programs eagerly looked forward to by EHS. Each year the Aeolians present the Thanksgiving assembly, participate in the annual Christmas Concert, Dad 'n Daughter Date Night, the Spring Music Festival, and provide vespers services and programs at the Old Peoples' Home. Sue Leonard is president of the Aeolians; Mary Lawrence is secretary.

The Girls' Club

Every girl in Elgin High School automatically becomes a member of the Girls' Club upon her entrance to E.H.S. The purpose of the club is to offer friendship, loyalty and service to our school. The governing body is composed of a cabinet of twelve elected by the girls, and a council which is made up of forty-six girls—one elected representative from each home room.

The maintenance of a school in Tennessee Dad and Daughter Date Night, and the Mother and Daughter Tea are some of the activities of the Girls' Club.

The E.H.S. Football Team

The Elgin Maroons, under Coaches Emery Ebbert and Paul Green, turned in a creditable record of five victories and four losses. Individually the team had many stars. Co-captains at tackle were Alan Ferriss and DeWayne Block, who were the iron men of the defense. The only other letterman, who was back from last year's Big 8 Champions, was Dick Brant at center. Right across the 200 average pound line were Carl Kleinschmidt, Bruce Pulinger, John Lohbauer, Bob Strohmaier, Herb Hollister, and pass snagger Jack Satterwaite. As for the backs, Don Toppel, Don Mapes, and Wayne Reinking were the standouts, Toppel and Mapes each scoring 72 points, and Reinking with 14 points and 385 yards gained.

E.H.S. Has an Extensive Intramural Program

From the start of the fall term until the summer Elgin High School students participate actively in intramurals, under the direction of Coach Farroh. First on the agenda are golf and tennis. Pre-season basketball is the third intramural sport. Next come the homeroom and class basketball tournaments. Wrestling and boxing follow for the winter sports program. There is also the free throw basket shooting contest. In the spring, badminton, volleyball, table tennis, handball, track and baseball occupy the spotlight.

Baseball, Tennis and Cross Country Teams

The Elgin High School baseball team of 1951 turned in an impressive record of 26 wins and 5 losses.

Behind the leadership of D. Gierz, G. Nash, P. Kovacs, B. Zito, A. Ferriss, D. Radlott, L. Hayes, W. Gifford, D. Block, and D. McCullum the Maroons had little trouble with their opponents, as their record shows.

The 1951 Tennis team at EHS finished the season with a flourish at the Big Eight Conference championship. They placed second in the Big Eight as a team only six points behind first place East Rockford.

The doubles team of Henry Pearsall and Charles Werner won the Big Eight doubles championship which was the first for Elgin in many years.

The EHS Cross Country team also turned in a fine record this year with Wes Foell being the most outstanding in that he qualified for the state meet.

Be good -
Dart

It's hard and rough with each other but I think it's good for us.

Plants
and flowers
